

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for selectively prohibiting a communications connection between an origin and destination in a communications network based on one or 5 mediations rules and one or more lists of prohibited and exempted destination identifiers either in real-time using a control unit or with a pre-check using an analysis unit.